

TROPICAL BIOLOGY ASSOCIATION

Field course in tropical ecology and conservation

Apply online by
14 March 2025

Kibale Forest National Park, Uganda
10 July to 09 August 2025

- Study in the heart of the forest
- Discover incredible biodiversity
- Learn from internationally-renowned experts
- Develop research and collaboration skills
- Launch your career in conservation
- Join a community of inspired conservationists

"The course allowed me to connect with students from diverse backgrounds. The sense of community and shared passion for conservation was truly inspiring."

Samuel Ssemyalo, Uganda

- Applicants should have completed three years of a biological degree.
- Courses are worth 10 ECTS credits.
- Students from Tropical Biology Association member institutions pay reduced course fees.
- Scholarships available.

More details www.tropical-biology.org

